Alison,

I recently had the pleasure of catching up with Dean Butler last week. As we were chatting I let him know that if there is anything I can do for Scalia Law—whether phone calls, meetings, fundraising, mentoring, etc.—I would love to pitch in. I had such a wonderful experience at Scalia and would love the opportunity to help the school in any way I can. He said to send you an e-mail letting you know that I am available to help with anything.

Merry Christmas,

Morgan

I was thinking In-House Counsel and then when they read the bio they can see what it is exactly that you do. Is that ok?

I just got off the phone with Victoria, and she just said "geesh." Seems whatever we try to do ends up getting messed up somehow.

Subject: Help with Mason Law Web Project

Hi Morgan:

Dean Butler encouraged me to reach out to you.

As I gather you know from your recent conversations, Dean Butler is energetically leading Mason Law “onward and upward.” As such, the law school is working on a vibrant redesign of the website, one that highlights the excellence of our location, our career services, our faculty, and our community (you).

As part of the redesign we would like to feature some current students and recent graduates. We thought you might be a great addition to our profiles.

It wouldn't require much:

- Authorization. We need permission to use your likeness, name, basic bio, etc. on our website and possibly on print materials;
- A photograph. We would love to get a photo of you in your workplace (or if you will be in DC at some point, have a photographer take your photo);
- Answers to 2 Questions. We might use an excerpt of your responses along with your photograph.
 1. What makes Mason special?
 2. What is the best part of your job?

On behalf of Dean Butler, the faculty and staff, thank you for considering this request.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,
Alison Price

Subject: Help with Mason Law Web Project

Hi Morgan:

Dean Butler encouraged me to reach out to you.

As I gather you know from your recent conversations, Dean Butler is energetically leading Mason Law “onward and upward.” As such, the law school is working on a vibrant redesign of the website, one that highlights the excellence of our location, our career services, our faculty, and our community (you).

As part of the redesign we would like to feature some current students and recent graduates. We thought you might be a great addition to our profiles.

It wouldn’t require much:

- Authorization. We need permission to use your likeness, name, basic bio, etc. on our website and possibly on print materials;
- A photograph. We would love to get a photo of you in your workplace (or if you will be in DC at some point, have a photographer take your photo);
- Answers to 2 Questions. We might use an excerpt of your responses along with your photograph.
 1. What makes Mason special?

2. What is the best part of your job?

On behalf of Dean Butler, the faculty and staff, thank you for considering this request.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,
Alison Price

That all sounds great. No deadline, just when you can.

We can send a photographer to you. Janie Piemonte in Career Services will work with you to schedule.

Thanks Morgan.

Allison,

I would be very happy to agree to this. I will begin to come up with a short bio and an answer to the two questions you asked. Is there a particular deadline for submission?

I don't have any photos of me my workplace, but I would be happy to submit another photo or arrange a time to be at Mason to have a photo taken, whichever works best for GMUSL.

Best,

Morgan

Dear Jiesi,

Thanks for following up on Morgan's message (we're very proud of her!).

My schedule is pretty crazy for the remainder of this week. I would appreciate it if you could work with my assistant (her information is below) to find a time for us to chat. Alternatively, I would be happy to get together in Reston or Arlington.

Onward and Upward!

Henry

Dear Morgan,

Great to hear from you! Thank you so much for thinking of YAF and CEFE. We should definitely catch up some time.

Dear Dean Butler,

I would very much like to find a time to chat with you about how we might collaborate to share free market-loving ideas with students on campus. My initial thoughts are to work on a lecture featuring a free market thinker at GMU Law and to see if it is a good fit for you to speak to students at our Road to Freedom Seminars, which are dedicated to teaching free market principles over the course of 2-3 days.

Please let me know a good time for you to chat!

All the best,

Jiesi

Jiesi,

I hope this e-mail finds you doing well and that everything at YAF and with CEFE are going great. The program really seems to be growing, in large part I am sure, because of your hard work.

I am writing to you to introduce you to Dean Henry Butler (he is cc'd on this e-mail). Dean Butler is a law and economics expert and a great free market thinker. He was the Director of the Law & Economics Center which teaches judges the basics of economics, finance, accounting, etc. I was lucky enough to have him as my Law & Econ professor during my 1L year at Mason before he became Dean of the law school. I had the opportunity to chat with Dean Butler the other night at a reception we were both attending. YAF and the Center for Entrepreneurship & Free Enterprise came up during the conversation and Dean Butler was really interested and impressed with the work you and YAF are doing to reach young people with free market ideals. So, I thought I'd put you two in contact with each other. I think Dean Butler would be a great person to have speak for CEFE to students. He is a very engaging professor and made difficult economic concepts fun and understandable. I think students would really enjoy and benefit from hearing from him on a wide range of free market and economic topics.

I'd love to get together soon and grab lunch or dinner—let me know if you're free. I'd love to catch up.

Best,

Morgan

Dean Butler,

It was wonderful to see you too. I was so excited when I heard that you had been made Dean of GMUSL. I know you will do great things for the school.

I had an amazing experience at Mason Law School. Unlike most of the other people I knew who went to other law schools, I had a wonderful experience and actually enjoyed my law school experience more than my undergraduate experience. I am currently getting my LL.M. in tax from Georgetown and seeing another law school environment has also made me all the more thankful that I chose Mason. I know that my experience was so great during law school because I chose Mason. So, if there is ever anything I can do to help Mason--whether fundraising, student recruitment, or otherwise--please let me know.

On that note, I will be sending an introductory e-mail on Monday to introduce you to Ms. Jiesi Zhao at YAF. She runs their Center for Entrepreneurship & Free Enterprise (<http://www.yaf.org/Center-for-Entrepreneurship-and-Free-Enterprise.aspx>). I think you'd be a great addition to there lecturers. They host events at the YAF HQ in Reston, and at campuses around the country. It'd be a great way for you to recruit and meet students while also spreading the free market philosophy.

I will also try and reach out to ADF (Alliance Defending Freedom) this week. I was a Blackstone Fellow with them (as are many other GMUSL students) while a student at GMUSL. They recently started a Collegiate Academy aimed at college students who are thinking about going into public policy and/or the legal profession. I think you'd be a great speaker for them as well, since they also focus on free markets, etc. Those students are already thinking about going to law school in most cases, so it'd be another great area to recruit from.

I don't have any contacts (that I know of) at Turning Point USA, but they are another group like YAF that may be a good one to recruit from. If I come up with any connections to the group I will reach out to them as well.

Please let me know if there are other ways I can help GMUSL. I am more than happy to volunteer my time in any way I can to help you and the school.

Best,

Morgan

Morgan!

Glad you are working for such a righteous organization!

I would appreciate your assistance in contacting YAF and other groups that can help us identify and recruit like-minded students.

Thank you!
